The Flowering Branch

"Here are fruits, flowers, leaves and branches, and here is my heart which beats only for you."

Paul Verlaine

A fleeting moment...

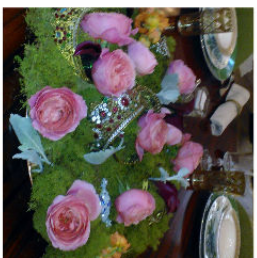

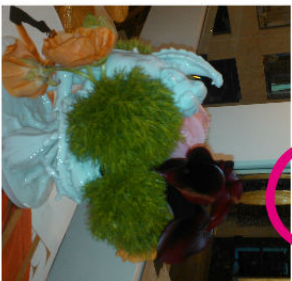

Flowers are for the moment. Even with proper care, flowers perish. Yet, I love working with this material and creating intricate arrangements for the moment.

I also love the idea of exploring the floral theme in other materials, particularly paper and fabric.

I create majestic backdrops of floral themed ornament for weddings and events. Smaller, and equally lovely, works are created for life celebrations.

I apply the same process and materials to craft millinery and hair ornaments. Custom designs are available for special occasions.

At thefloweringbranch.com find the perfect floral gift and explore my design work.

Unique, creative and custom floral design work to celebrate any occasion.

About me:

As a child, I would sit and watch the ladies of the Honesdale Ancillary Service arrange flowers for the annual antique sale at Wayne Highlands H.S. It was the highlight of each summer. By the time I was a teenager, I was helping make and deliver the floral arrangements to the show vendors.

Professionally, I have worked as an administrative assistant and project manager. Yet, I have been able to develop and pursue my passion for flowers by delivering unique and creative arrangements for corporate events and private functions thanks to a generous employer who allows me the time and materials to deliver this service within our company. My skill and talent have increased through 18 years of experience in private industry. I continue to enhance my portfolio through private commissions and industry events.
